SUBMITTING A COMPLAINT INFORMATION SHEET

NOTE: in order to save, open form with Adobe Acrobat

In addition to the information on our website, this information sheet provides you with a brief overview of what to expect when you submit a complaint to NSCN. If you have any questions, please contact us.

Before Submitting a Complaint

Before you submit the complaint, please consider that we are not able to:

- Address complaints about any health care providers other than nurses
- Address complaints about the facility where the incident occurred
- Order financial compensation to anyone including patients, complainants or their families
- Process a complaint without notifying the nurse about the complaint

Important Information About Your Complaint

Unless exceptional circumstances apply, all information you submit, including the complaint form and any documents you provide, will be given to the nurse named in the complaint. However, your personal contact information will not be shared.

Where patient care is involved, we have the authority to obtain medical records. These medical records and other information obtained may also be provided to the nurse named in the complaint.

We will disclose information provided or obtained in the course of the complaints process to the appropriate NSCN staff, investigators and committee members involved in the resolution of this matter. Where we determine it is necessary, information may be disclosed to you or other witnesses.

At a later stage in the complaints process, if the matter is referred to a hearing, the information you have been provided or that we have obtained may become public where required under the Nursing Act, Regulations or By-laws.

We take confidentiality seriously throughout the complaints process. If you submit a complaint, you are not prevented from discussing the subject matter of the complaint. However, information or documents we provide to you during the course of the complaints process must not be shared. There are some exceptions, such as if material is otherwise publically available.

If you obtain documents or information in the course of the investigation and resolution of this matter, the documents and information must be kept strictly confidential and cannot be used in legal proceedings such as civil lawsuits or arbitration processes.
